SERVICE MANAGEMENT

Plieger. Challenge.

Sales Operating Outside ERP

Sales avoids using ERP due to Quantity Availability and Committed Stock issues.

Reliance on multiple standalone systems leads to loss of oversight and control.

Stock Allocation Challenges

High volume of stock (€110m) claimed by sales leads to order conflicts and lack of stock visibility.

Sales distrusts JDE, resorting to email communication instead.

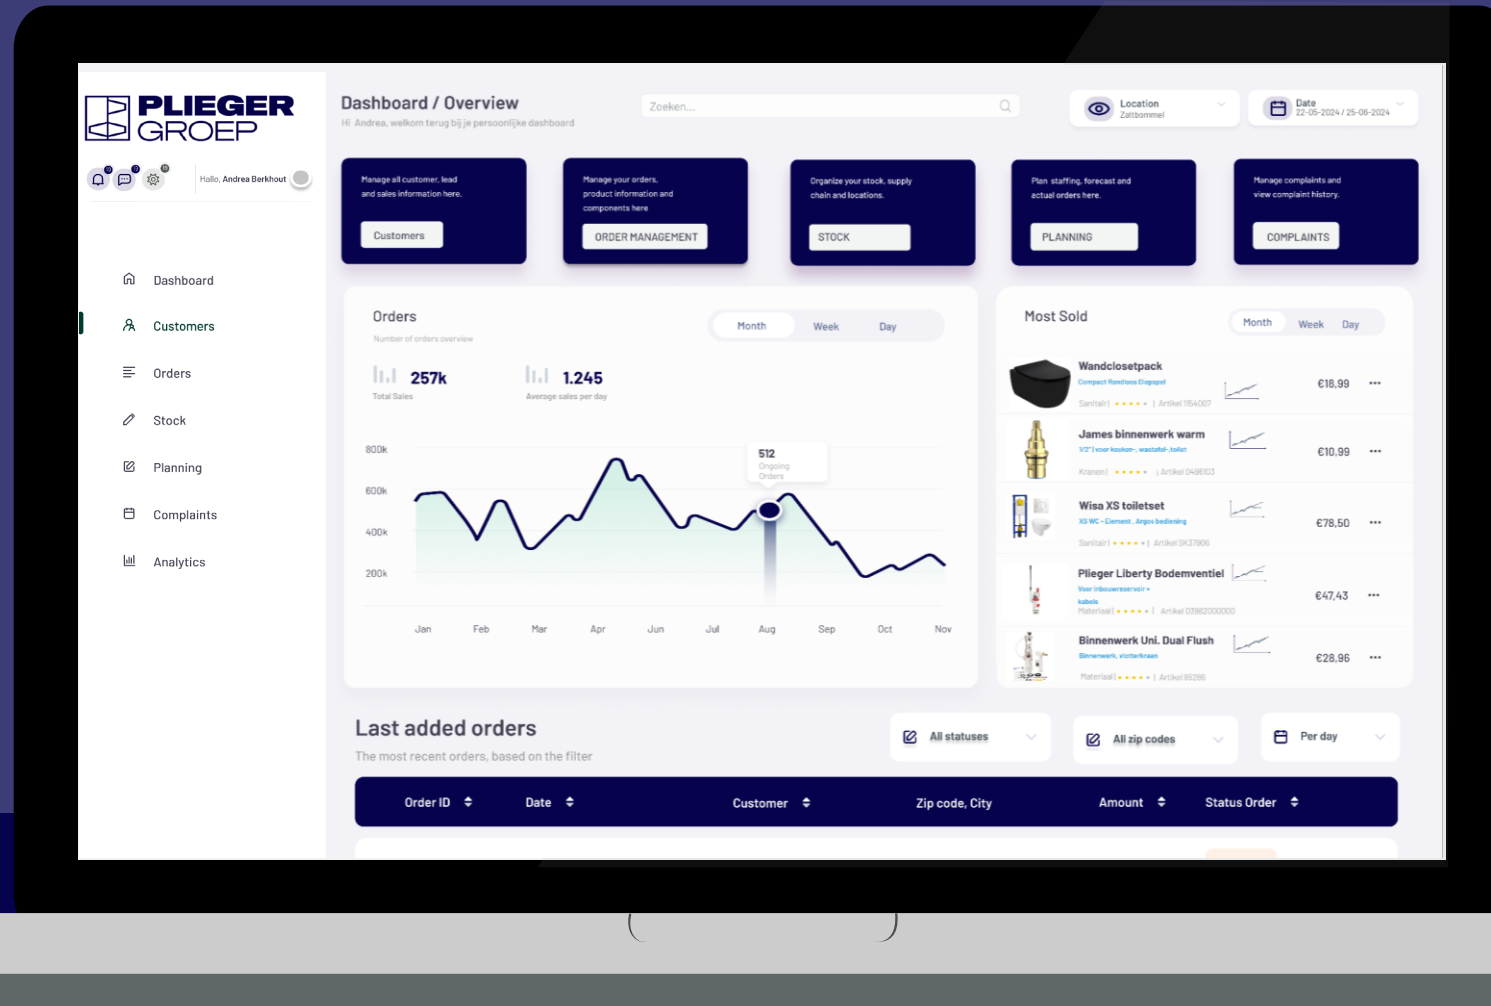

Increasing Committed Stock

Continual increase in committed stock allocated for orders over time.

Interface Dependency

Plieger relies on numerous interfaces and websites for complaints, competitor pricing, and product information retrieval.
